Career Counseling

Career counselors are available by appointment to discuss resumes, grants, competitions, fellowships, residencies, job searches, internships, time-management, relocation issues, starting your own business and other career-related questions.

Peer Career Advisors - PCAs

Peer Career Advisors (PCAs) are undergraduate and graduate students trained in professional development and resources available to students and creatives. They can review your professional materials, and provide general job or internship search advice.

Online Career Resources

Visit mica.edu/career-development to find links to videos, tutorials, and handouts about everything from your professional package, job search tools, grants, residencies and competitions, and more.

Job & Opportunity Database

On www.micanetwork.com, you will find valuable information you need on career related programs, internships, jobs, freelance work, residencies, fellowships, grants, exhibitions, and more.

Employer Events & Programs

Career Development facilitates employer events and professional development programs each semester. Scheduled events can be found in www.micanetwork.com under Events.

Creative Entrepreneurship

Interested in starting your own business, launching a product or being a freelancer? Visit micapreneurship.com for resources, workshops, programs and advising sessions. The annual UP/Start MICA Competition offers graduating students a chance to win funding for new or recently founded businesses.

Internship Program

Career Development offers support with finding the internship, navigating the application process, providing interview strategies, and registering the internship for school credit. Visit www.mica.edu/internships to get started.

Financial Literacy

iGrad is a free financial literacy service with a searchable scholarship database, financial literacy course, articles and videos and tools for managing your student loans and budget. Visit mica.igrad.com to learn more.

Grants, Residencies and Funding

Career Development can introduce you to the task of searching for grants and resources specific to your goals, and assist with the application process so that you have the best chance for success.

Exhibition & Competition Opportunities

Career Development gathers exhibition and competition opportunities and regularly posts them on MICAnetwork. As you apply for these opportunities, you can meet with a career counselor for assistance.

Graduate School Opportunities (Undergrad)

We can introduce you to the search process and help you in every stage, from identifying which schools are right for you and timing your process to stay on track, to reviewing your application materials.
