

正山小種

Lapsang SauChong

INTRODUCTION

Lapsang species, also known as Lapsang species, belongs to black tea, and artificial species together known as small black tea. It is the earliest black tea in the world, also known as the originator of black tea. It has a history of more than 400 years. It was created by local tea farmers in the depths of Wuyi Mountain in Fujian Province in the middle and late Ming Dynasty. Later, Gongfu black tea was developed on the basis of Lapsang Souchong. In history, the tea is distributed in Xingcun, so it is also called Xingcun Small Chong.

正山小種

Lapsang SauChong